GAY AT JEFFERSON PARK

A Richmond Automobile Party Spent the Night by the Way.

(Special to The Times Dispatch.)
JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, CHAR-JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 21.—From the glare of the seashore to the restful quiet and green of the mountains—away from the hot sands to the green, velvety, sloping hills and cool, refreshing mountain springs—come the city folks to Jefferson Park, quite tired of the beach and ready to enjoy life in the mountains; where the air is cool and bracing, the mountain roads, with surpassingly beautiful scenery
on all sides, most inviting for long drives and horseback rides, and where one feels energetic enough, even on the warmest days, to join in a tennis or box hall congest in the afternoons, and trip the evenings away at the dancing pavilion, to the alluring strains of sweet music and the best ball-room floor in Albemarie,
On Friday of last week Mr. D. C.
O'Flaherty, of Richmond, motored up to Jefferson Park in his magnificent touring oar, with a party of friends, to spend the night, on his way to Greene county.
Comprising the party were Messrs, A. W.
Shuttee, W. A. Hoffner and William Adger, of Richmond, and Mr. W. A. Balinger, of London, England.
Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Martin, of Roanoke, Va., who have been spending several weeks at Jefferson Park, loft on Tuesday for Atlanta, Ga., where they will spend a fortnight with friends, going from there to Tate Springs for the month
of August,

in the School of Methods during ner sulphere. She has given soveral very delightful rendings at the University Auditorium, which were most enthusiastically received.

On Thursday afternoon little Miss Catharine Anne Itucker, of Hampion, Va., was hostess at a very delightful garden party; to which all of the young rolks in the hotel and vicinity were bidden. The children assembled at five o'clock—like so many tiny fairies in their dainty white frocks, with pale thated bows—and under the spreading boughs of the grove in front of the hotel, with dozens of spectators seated on the veranda, they played "Ring around the Roses" and "Hold up the Gates," and all of the "party" games that children like so to participate in (and the grown-up folks like to watch, for nearly an hour, when there appeared on the scene a nuge table draped with a snowy cover, caught with vines of honeysuckle and elaborately decorated with "Brown-eyed Busans" and wood ferns. Pretty silver bon-bons, peoped out from amid the flowers, and they looked so tempting that the tiny folks could scarcely wait to be seated before they sirectched out their hands for them. Delicious ices, cakes and sweets were served, after which a private car took the little folks and their nurses for a "trolley ride to town." Each guest was presented with a lovely box of bon-bons, a souvenir of the most enjoyable marry. Lack of space prevents my going into details of the many enjoyable impromptu parties of the past week—cards and driving parties, trips to mountains and tennis matches.

Each day brings some of the "Jefferson Park frequenters" back for a month or six weeks' stay—families and parties who come every summer, and who grow more and more enthusiastic about it every year.

So homelike and comfortable and hoalitable is the atmosphere of this hotel and more enthusiastic about it every year.

So homelike and comfortable and hospitable is the atmosphere of this hotel that one feels always "delighted to get here" and "so sorry to leave."

The register for the past week shows: Margaret Burgos, Suffolk, Va.; Lenoia Ashmore, Hampton; W. A. Ballinger, Lonodon, Engiand; Raby Godley, Dailas, Texas; Arthur Chesterman, Mrs. W. G. Electricity to Be Brought to the Aid of the Waves' Action to Pump the Bring,

SOCIAL LIFE AT THE BEACH

A Round of Suppers Delight the Cottagers - Many Guests.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

VIRGINIA BEACH, VA., July 21.—The work of reconstructing the old flume for the pumping of sea water into the lakes in the rest of the beach has progressed very rapidly to the point of completion. Captain David Stormont, who has direct charge of the repairs to the waterway, has used the utmost efforts to place it in a satisfactory condition at the earliest possible moment, and it is expected that the electric pump which will operate the system and force sea.

is expected that the electric pump which will operate the system and force sea water back to the lakes will be in operation by the first of the coming week. This, of course, will mean the disappearance of the mosquite in an entirety. So far this season, however, the little peats have not had as full sway as in former years, as the flume has been cleared and allowed to work by the force of the sea-tides alone, and water has flowed more or less continually through the lakes at all times. The addition of the mechanical appliances will overcome any defects which might now exist.

The week's arrivals have been in fairly good numbers in spite of the unseason.

overcome any defects which 'might now exist.

The week's arrivals have been in fairly good numbers in spite of the unseasonable weather for July. Indications also point to a season which might run much later than in former years, as hotel and cottage bookings seem to incline toward the latter part of August and September.
